

CALL EXPERT IN GUMMER TRIAL

COUNTIES ARE CLASSIFIED IN MAKING LOANS

Important Decision in Policy of Department Made by Industrial Commission

WESTERN COUNTIES GAIN

Reserve of Million Dollars Set Aside from Allotment to Meet Emergencies

After an exhaustive investigation by the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota into the relative need for farm loans in the various counties of the state, during which reports and advice were obtained from bankers, farmers, farm loan appraisers and others, the industrial commission has adopted the recommendations of Manager W. B. DeNault, and has classified counties as to the need of farm loans at this time.

The commission has classified the counties of the state into four divisions, according to their need, and has allotted the amount of farm loans to be made in the counties on the basis of this classification. The result is that the loans will be made in greater ratio on basis of assessed valuation of land in the counties most in need of help. This classification is carried as far as possible on this basis as the qualifications of fairness and safety to all the people of the state permit.

The industrial commission found that on a basis of proportionate loans to the various counties, based on the total amount which can be loaned by law, no loans could be made in Burleigh, Bottineau or Renville counties, because the amount of loans already made by the former administration in these counties exceeded their share. However, since the industrial commission does not want any actual farmer who can make a safe loan with the department to lose his land because the former administration exceeded the proportion of loans for that county, the commission has set aside from the total amount which may be loaned a reserve of $1,000,000 to take care of emergency cases in counties already overdrawn or which may be overdrawn in the future. For the time being the commission construes such emergency to be where the applicant will lose his land on or before July 1, 1922, if he is unable to make a loan. This date will be extended later on for emergency cases maturing later than July 1, 1922, and Mr. DeNault believes that $1,000,000 will be much more than ample to take care of these emergency cases.

Western Counties Gain
The greater need of counties in the western part of the state is recognized in the allotment and they are given a greater amount of money in proportion to the assessed value of their lands than counties in the eastern part of the state.

Before presenting his recommendations, Manager DeNault sought information and advice from many quarters and he believes that he has a very accurate statement of the relative needs of the various parts of the state.

Applications for loans are coming in at a very rapid rate. Applications have been made since January 1 for a total of more than $5,500,000 in loans. With most of the exhaustive preliminary work necessary to build the department from the very small organization before maintained nearing completion, all appraisers will be in

FIND NOTE OF MARY MILES MINTER TO SLAIN MOTION PICTURE DIRECTOR IN INVESTIGATION OF HIS MURDER

Young Actress Does Not Deny Authorship of Letter—Taylor Buried as Police and Detectives Redouble Efforts to Unravel Mystery of Murder

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—While police were sifting the constantly arriving tips on the case of the murder of William D. Taylor from various sources today, preparations were being made for the funeral of the dead motion picture director this afternoon.

Taylor's body was clad in the uniform of captain of the British army. It has been viewed by thousands of friends and others.

A signed note dropped from one of Taylor's books while police detectives were making an examination of his effects, according to the Los Angeles Examiner. It was on the butterfly stationery of Mary Miles Minter.

It read:
Dearest—I love you! I love you! I love you! XXXX

Yours always, Mary.

The last "X" was two inches high followed by an exclamation point an inch in height.

Does Not Deny Note
Miss Minter did not deny authorship of the letter, according to the Examiner.

"I did love William Taylor," she said.

"I loved him deeply and tenderly, and I loved the admiration and respect a young girl gives to a man with the poise and culture of Mr. Taylor."

Taylor and Miss Minter met at Santa Barbara two years ago. He was her director.

Taylor is survived not only by a daughter in New York, Miss Ethel Daisy Tanner, 19, but also by a son, Reuben Davis Taylor, 28, in Texas, Kansas, Tex., according to M. H. McDowell, editor of Screenland, in an interview with the Los Angeles Examiner.

Young Taylor is said to be the son of the dead man and a woman other than any mentioned heretofore as a former wife of the director.

Actress Questioned
A motion picture actress was subjected to what the police termed a "long and grueling" questioning at her home here last night.

The actress was said to be widely known, but her name was withheld by the police. Two detective sergeants questioned her.

What they learned they kept to themselves but they admitted they were seeking to develop the previously advanced theory that Taylor had been slain by a jealous rival for the affections of the actress.

An unidentified "party of men" was driven to the vicinity of the apartment of Taylor the night he was murdered, according to a story told the police today by a taxicab driver.

Still Search for Sands
What else the chauffeur told the police the latter did not make public, but it was known that in the search for the slayer of the motion picture director, the detective questioned six men today.

These included Charles Eytan, general manager of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, by which Taylor had been employed, and Henry Peavey, negro house servant of the dead director.

The questioning of the four unnamed men, who included the chauffeur, was in furtherance of the search for Edward F. Sands, or Edward Fitzstrathmore, missing butler.

The chauffeur's suspicions were said to have been aroused after reading of the murder and he communicated his knowledge to the police. He and a companion were in secret conference with the police several hours.

Two of the four men were said to have entered into the investigation for the first time today.

Normand Letters Missing
Twice detectives working on the case were called together in conference with Captain of Detectives David Adams.

Mr. Eytan had a long talk with Captain Adams and Peavey also was questioned again.

Late in the day officials declared letters known to have been in Taylor's possession shortly before his death in addition to those said to have been written by Mabel Normand, film actress, and sought by her in vain at his apartments after the body was found, were missing.

No one questioned by the police so far has admitted any knowledge of their whereabouts. Eytan said he had not seen them. The public administrator and the district attorney made like statements. Eytan's visit to the Central Police station it was said in connection with the efforts to find Sands, who is said to have been near the Taylor apartments as little as two hours before the shooting.

Eytan aided the officers in obtaining photographs of Sands but no really good picture of him is available, it is said.

Simmers to "Tips"
The investigation has simmered down to the process of elimination according to Captain Adams. Hundreds of "tips" have come to the police from various sources, solicited and unsolicited.

"If we can locate Sands," said Captain Adams, "there is one promise of satisfaction where he was Wednesday night between 7 and 8 o'clock—can prove he was not in Los Angeles and that he was in Los Angeles and not near the Taylor apartments, then we shall know that other clues now in our hands, are probably of value."

Adams said regardless of where Sands might have been last Wednesday, he was not in Los Angeles at present.

FILM DIRECTOR MURDERED

William Desmond Taylor, wealthy motion picture director, was mysteriously shot to death in his apartment at Los Angeles. Police are without clues. Taylor was an adviser and friend of Mabel Normand, movie star, who called on him shortly before the shooting took place. Taylor was a British war hero. He was an actor and movie star before he became a director.

suspends Work on Philippine Fortifications Covered in The Treaty

PRaises CONFERENCE
London, Feb. 7.—Prime Minister Lloyd George, speaking at the opening session of the House of Commons this afternoon, termed the Washington conference one of the greatest achievements ever registered in the history of the world.

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Harding will order suspension of all work on all warships now building which are destined for the scrap heap under the treaty but will issue no final order for discontinuance of the work until the treaty is actually ratified, it was announced at the White House today.

The president, it was said, already has ordered suspension of work on additional fortifications on the island of Guam and likewise further developments under way in the Philippine Islands taking his action in view of the clause of the naval treaty fixing the status quo for those Pacific islands of the United States.

The treaties resulting from the armament conference it was said, at the White House, are expected to be sent to the senate the last of this week although this will depend upon the submission of reports of the American delegation to the president.

Mr. Harding, it was added, has not decided whether he will present the treaties in person or by letter.

The president was represented as of the belief that some reduction in the personnel of the army and navy would result from the armament conference agreement but of "reasonable relativity."

HANDWRITING ON HOTEL REGISTER AGAIN IN CASE

Minneapolis Expert Called in Effort to Show Fictitious Name was Signed

CHAMBERMAID A WITNESS

Tells of Hearing Noises in the Prescott Hotel at 4 a. m., Night of Murder

SAYS BROWN WROTE IT
Valley City, Feb. 7.—Thomas J. Caton, of Minneapolis, handwriting expert, called this afternoon in his opinion Andy Brown wrote the name "James Farrell Wilmar" on the Hotel Prescott register the night that Miss Marie Wick was murdered.

Brown was the roommate of William Gummer.

Valley City, Feb. 7.—Miss May Mellas, chambermaid employed in the Prescott hotel, Fargo, where Marie Wick was murdered, was the principal witness this morning in the trial of William Gummer.

Miss Mellas said she was awakened about 4 A. M. by noises in the room occupied by Miss Wick. Miss Mellas occupying the room immediately beneath.

She said the sounds seemed as if someone jumped from the bed, hit the bed several times and walked across the room, opened and shut the door and walked down the hall to the front stairs.

The state maintains that at this time Miss Wick was murdered.

Hagen on Stand.
H. J. Hagen, former president of the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo, who occupied room 31 next to that of Miss Wick, was chosen for further cross examination.

Hagen gave evasive answers concerning the prosecution of himself for alleged irregularities in the affairs of that bank. On re-direct examination he answered the question "Did you kill Miss Wick?" with "No Sir."

Asked if he had ever been in room 30 he replied, "Absolutely not." He also said that he had never seen Miss Wick.

Call Andy Brown.
Just before the noon adjournment the defense called Andy Brown, Gummer's roommate, for further cross examination. He was asked if he wrote the name "James Farrell" on the register of the hotel the night of the murder. Objection to the question was sustained.

Immediately after lunch the state was to call Thomas J. Caton, handwriting expert from Minneapolis, in an effort to prove that Brown wrote the name Farrell as it was signed on the register.

Milligan a Witness
Resuming the introduction of the testimony last yesterday, James Milligan, deputy sheriff of Cass county, was the chief witness for the state.

Milligan said that a day or two after the murder he participated in tests that were made in the room in which the girl was killed, beating on a wall, hitting the headboard and the spring, and that such noises were declared by Mrs. John Van Vorst, occupant of an adjacent room, as being similar to those that awakened her between 12:30 and 2 a. m. the night of the murder.

Milligan said also that all exits of the hotel were closely examined, that screens on all windows were in place, and that two windows opening on fire escapes had not been disturbed, dust indicating this condition.

Hotel Lobby Dark at 12:15
George O'Brien of Fargo said that he was in the hotel two days after the murder, and that on that occasion Gummer told him all guests, except Farrell, had been accounted for. The state maintains that Farrell was a fictitious name registered on the hotel book by Andy Brown, Gummer's roommate and who was in the hotel part of the night in question.

O'Brien also said that he accepted from Gummer on that night a letter to be mailed at the railroad station nearby. Previous testimony was that Gummer had given this letter to O'Brien the night of the murder.

The reading of testimony was completed at 3:20, and after a 15 minute recess court recommenced. The first witness called to the stand by the prosecution was George O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien gave his work as elevator man at the Gardner hotel and that he was 40 years of age and that he had lived in Fargo for the past six years. That he lived with his family at the Colonial flats and that in going to and from his home he worked at the Gardner hotel the Prescott hotel.

His work hours at the Gardner were from 6 in the evening to 12 midnight. That he worked this shift every other night. That on the night of the murder Marie Wick was murdered in room 30 at the Prescott hotel. He went to the hotel accompanied by his son, Leo O'Brien, also employed the same hours at the Gardner. On this night he testified that he stopped in front of the Prescott to light a cigar. That he looked into the lobby and noticed that the lobby was dark. That but one light was burning. Hooded light over the switch board.

FEDERAL FARM CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE

President Quamme of St. Paul Bank Calls Meeting in Bismarck March Feb. 14 and 15

MAY MAKE LOANS SOON

Says that Report on Bond Sale Will be Made at Meeting To Be Held Here

A convention of all the farm loan associations and agencies of the Federal Farm Loan system in North Dakota will be held in Bismarck, February 14 and 15, it is announced by E. G. Quamme, president of the Federal Farm Loan Bank of St. Paul.

"There are a great many matters of importance to come before this meeting," says Mr. Quamme's announcement.

He adds information that the bond sale has begun and that he hopes to be able to receive new applications soon after the bond sale.

Held in Capitol.
Mr. Quamme's announcement of the meeting says in part:

"We will hold a convention of the farm loan associations and agencies in the state of North Dakota at Bismarck on the 14th and 15th of February. The meeting will be held in the house chamber of the state capitol and will be called to order at one o'clock in the afternoon of the 14th."

"There are a great many matters of importance to come before this meeting and we sincerely hope that every association will send at least one representative. If the secretary-treasurer cannot come to the meeting, the president of some other officer should be asked to attend."

"On the 14th and 15th we will commence this work and we hope to have a report on that at the meeting. We also expect to be able to receive new applications again right after this bond sale and that matter will be discussed."

A Two-Day Session.
"On account of the many matters to be taken up and considered this year, we deem it advisable to hold a two-day session which however will be in effect a day and a half session on account of the train service in and out of Bismarck."

"A full and frank discussion at this time concerning all matters pertaining to the service of the Farm Loan System will be of benefit and value to all who attend. There are 18 associations and agencies in the state of North Dakota and we hope that we can have a 100 per cent attendance. None of our organizations can afford to miss the information and knowledge to be gained at this meeting."

Our experience in the past years of operation teaches us that the associations at our annual meetings are the ones who do not understand the regulations, requirements and policy of the Farm Loan System and what difficulties as to their operation are practically all of their associations. The annual meeting is our clearing house for exchange of ideas and constructive planning for the future."

HAIL WARRANT SUIT HELD OF GREAT IMPORT

If Contract Proposed to be Entered Into is Upheld Future Market for Warrants Made

HEARING ON TOMORROW

Questions of vital import to the state and especially to holders of state hail insurance warrants are involved in the suit to be heard by the supreme court here tomorrow.

Attorney-General Johnson will maintain the legality of the contract proposed to be entered into by the Industrial Commission and the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis and Jaffray, of Minneapolis, for the sale of 1921 hail warrants. The suit is regarded as of great importance not only as it relates to the possible sale of 1921 hail warrants, the total issue of which amounted to about $3,500,000, but in establishing a permanent market and permanent method of marketing hail warrants to the advantage of the holders of the warrants.

Early Hearing

The supreme court set the case down for early hearing because of the importance of the suit to the public interest. The case is in the nature of a test of the contract for the purpose of limiting or discovering any possible legal objections that may be contained in the contract or in the hail insurance law, the plaintiff, who is Otto Bauer, a taxpayer of Morton county and who is acting for the financial houses, assails the validity of the entire hail insurance law, the contract, and raises other objections.

In endeavoring to arrange for the sale of the hail warrants at less discount than was being demanded by individual purchasers, the representative of the financial houses and the Industrial Commission ran into many legal snags. It found that the hail insurance law, while providing that the Industrial Commission and Commissioner of Insurance may make a loan for the purpose of paying off hail warrants it provides no machinery for the making of the loan. Attorney-General Johnson and representatives of the financial houses evolved a plan by which they hoped to be able to complete the deal for the sale of hail warrants. In the first step in this general plan the commission obtained a buyer for $300,000 of hail warrants at 97, whereas discounts as high as 20 per cent had been charged.

Definite Due Date

To make the deal it was found necessary for the financial houses to have a definite due date on warrants, so that they could sell them in the open market, if necessary. The plan evolved was for the Industrial Commission to purchase the hail warrants from individuals and then issue a series of notes in amounts of $1,000 each, with definite time of maturity, to bear a 4 per cent interest, the same as the all warrants.

The contract provides that the financial houses will purchase the warrants at 98 per cent of face value in February, increasing the price one-half per cent each month until June, when the company will pay par. The right is reserved to cease purchasing after June 15. The hail warrants bear interest from December 1, 1921. The hail warrants which are purchased by the Industrial Commission would be paid at the dates of maturity fixed in the contract, as nearly as practicable, and the warrants not purchased would be paid before this maturity, as far as practicable.

Refutes Stamp Buying Story

He said he looked into the hotel office and the Prescott clock was 12:15. He could see no one in the lobby or the office at this time. He was also questioned to bring from him the statement that he did not on this night buy a stamp of Gummer and that Gummer did not give him a letter to mail; but that he did on the Wednesday night following buy a stamp and Gummer gave him a letter to mail and he also wrote and mailed on the train a card. That Gummer, who was at this time still working at the Prescott, sold him a two cent stamp as he did not have a one cent stamp.

On this Wednesday night, he said, he asked Gummer if he had got all the guests checked up who were in the house on the night of the sixth, and Gummer said he had all but Farrell.

Under cross-examination, witness stated that he could not be mistaken about the time he got the stamp. When shown a postal card which he identified as the card, and that it was postmarked 8th, he still insisted that his testimony stood, that it was late Wednesday night, or rather early Thursday morning that the card was mailed.

Unshaken by Cross-Examination

The evidence of Mr. O'Brien was brought in by the state to show that on the night of the murder, the office was dark at 12:15 and that witness could see no one in about the place, and that it was not the usual thing for the lobby to be dark at this time. Witness said that he was a frequent passer of the hotel at this time of the night, and was familiar with conditions there.

Corroborates Father

Leo O'Brien, 18 years-old, son of George O'Brien, testified substantially as did his father, his testimony being corroborative of that given by his father. Young O'Brien was at the time a bell boy at the Gardner. Young O'Brien testified that he was familiar with the Prescott hotel as at two different times he had worked there. He stated he had a clear view of the Prescott office where he stood on the side walk, and testified as did his father, that no one could be seen about the place. He also testified that the clock at the Prescott stood at 12:15.

Trial History to Date

The trial of Gummer was opened in the Barnes county district court on Jan. 17. States Attorney Wm. C. Green of Cass county had charge of the prosecution and he was assisted in the selection of the jury by States Attorney L. S. B. Riche of this city. Chas. Pollock was assisting him. The defense is represented by Judge Barnett and Clair Brickner of Fargo and H. W. Swenson of Devils Lake. Mr. Swenson is a brother-in-law of the accused. Attorney A. P. Paulson assisted the defense in the jury selection.

The first two days of the trial were consumed in the selection of the jury and the jury was completed about four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, January 19. The announcement of the completion of the jury was a surprise to everyone. After the selection of the jury the state entered the preliminary stages of the legal battle and began calling witnesses to the stand whom circumstances showed could not have committed the crime. Some 30 witnesses were examined during the first few days but in many cases the examination was merely perfunctory and tended to show the impossibility of the witness having any direct connection with the commission of the crime. The various gruesome exhibits found on the scene of the crime have been entered in evidence by the state and identified by witnesses. These exhibits tell a graphic story of the brutality of the murder and are a repugnant sight in the court room. The state had not produced a great deal of evidence connecting the accused with the crime up to the end of the fifth day of the trial, the preliminary stages requiring the attention of the court up to that time.

Hagen on Stand

When court opened on Saturday morning, the 21st, the placing of H. J. Hagen on the witness stand led the attorneys to believe that the preliminary stages were over and that the state was about to start proving their contention that the crime could not have been committed by anyone other than the accused. The examination of Hagen was not long and he was turned over to the defense for cross examination. Cross examination by Barnett brought out some discrepancies in his direct testimony. The defense excused him while reserving the right to again place him on the stand. He will undoubtedly be returned for further questioning after the close of the case. The placing of Andy Brown, chum of the accused and material witness held by the state, on the stand and the short examination of him was a decided surprise to everyone and no less to the defense counsel. The state has announced their intention of showing the connection of Brown with the signature of Jas. Farrell on the hotel register off the night in question. A handwriting expert by whom it is hoped to prove this connection, was in the city at the time of the adjournments. He will return to the city during the week and take the stand. Sensational developments in the case are expected through the use of Brown, and speculation as to his connection with the crime is rife in the city. There are several points in the evidence so far presented which will require clearing up in order to obtain a conviction of the accused but the state has signified their intention of straightening these matters out.

The counsel for the defense have given no indication as yet to their plan of defense or as to the identity of the witnesses they will call to the stand. Neither have they indicated whether the accused will take the stand in his own defense. If he does not take the stand there is the danger of the omission prejudicing the jury against him. If he does the state will be given the opportunity of cross examining him. What action will be taken in this matter cannot be forecasted at this time. The defense has introduced the name of a mysterious C. L. Thomas into the case in the cross examination of Hagen. There is much speculation as to the identity of this man but it is not known definitely as to whether the introduction of his name has any direct bearing on the case or not.

The opening of court on the morning of the 22nd found States Attorney Green unable to leave his room at the hotel and his place was taken in the courtroom by Assistant States Attorney Wattam who examined minor witnesses during the morning. On his motion for adjournment court was recessed until the next day, when it was continued for the following Monday. Mr. Green's continued illness demanded a further adjournment until yesterday.

Plan to Irrigate Heart River from Dickinson to Mandan

That there is sufficient fall and drop in elevation along the valley of the Heart river from Dickinson to Mandan where the stream empties into the Missouri river, a total distance of 200 river miles, to make irrigation not only feasible but very reasonable is the claim of George H. McMahon, assistant state engineer in a letter to Editor Ed. J. Sullivan of the New Salem Journal.

The state engineering department has located two points where reservoir sites can be constructed at a very small cost per acre to the land which would come within the irrigation project. The same is true of the Cannon Ball river for a distance of some 250 miles, it is said.

Directors of the Mandan Commercial club at a meeting Wednesday will take up the matter of securing detailed engineering estimates.

The Mandan Musical Club will hold their regular meeting at the Commercial Club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock.

ODD FELLOWS GET UNIFORMS

Patriarchs Militant, Uniformed Rank, to go to State Convention

No court has been held by Judge Tant, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, held a meeting last night and drill. The members of the order, the highest branch of Odd Fellows, appeared in their new uniforms for the first time. There was drill under the command of Captain E. G. Harrington, with Major C. L. Hanson present.

The new uniforms consist of fatigue and dress uniform for each man. The dress uniform includes opanean with ostrich plume, single-breasted black military frock coat, black trousers. A sword is carried. The uniforms cost between $90 and $100 each. The Canton expects to appear in full dress uniforms in parade and is planning to attend the next state convention of Odd Fellows. The degree was conferred on Christ Nilsson last night. The membership of the organization is now about twenty.

JURY CALLED BACK TO COURT

Armory Personal Property Case Up For Trial Today

Part of the jury panel in district court was called back this morning to hear one of the armory cases. The 25 members of the panel summoned were presented at 10 o'clock, but a message was received saying Judge Coffey had been unable to catch the train from Jamestown last night, and would not arrive until noon.

The case is styled Company A, First Regiment, North Dakota National Guard Training School, a corporation, vs. Edmund A. Hughes. The plaintiff alleges it owns personal property consisting of steel lockers, roller skates, etc., which it claims the defendant obtained possession of and places the value at $4,800. The case was originally brought by W. A. Anderson, assistant attorney general C. L. Young, attorney for Mr. Hughes, filed a general denial, except as regards the lockers, and maintained that these were purchased at a fair price. Title to the armory property is not involved in this case. A court has been held by Judge Coffey since Friday.

INSPECTION OF FIRE RISKS TO BE MADE HERE

State Fire Marshal Receives Word; Tells Citizens to Put Houses in Order

Bismarck, among other principal cities of North Dakota, will be visited in the near future by inspectors of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who will revise the rates in North Dakota, according to R. A. Middaugh, state fire marshal, who has received this information from Walter I. Fisher, manager of the general inspection company of Minneapolis.

"Before this inspection is made, repair that chimney, put a tangle around that stovepipe and see that the distance from wooden ceilings or walls is one and one-half times the diameter of stove pipe," says Mr. Middaugh in an open letter to the public. He continues: Clean that dirty chimney, clean out that rubbish and old papers, no matter where located, get that defective wiring repaired, move that gasoline can out of doors, take those papers or combustible shades off of electric lights, keep oily rags and rags in tin containers where they can burn up without damaging surrounding property.

"A clean house or business place makes for a safe home or mercantile risk from an inspector's point of view and you will be repaid in dollars and cents for making this pre-inspection. Remember the insurance companies don't care. They'll insure anything for a consideration and the amount of consideration or premium is based on the risk.

"If you know of bad conditions that need looking after notify the chief of your city fire department."

SYRUP PEPSIN IN OLD AGE
Much used by elderly people for constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc.

MANY men and women, as they grow older, suffer constantly from little ills. The cause is the poisons produced by chronic constipation, resulting in headaches, depression, bloating, sour stomach, bad breath, etc. A single bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will prove to you that you can so regulate yourself that elimination will occur promptly every day. Increased doses are not necessary. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and others simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The cost is only about a cent a dose.
In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market 30 years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, the formula has never been improved upon. It is safer and better for you than salts, minerals, calomel, coal tar and such drastic purgatives.

N. D. RAIL RATES HELP TO PAY GOPHER EXPENSE

Newly Appointed Traffic Manager of Farm Bureau Points Out The Discriminations

MAKES SOME COMPARISONS

Carload of Sugar Rate Shows Mandan, Bismarck, Fargo Discriminated Against

Fargo, Feb. 7.—That North Dakota is helping to pay Minnesota's taxes, and that in addition North Dakota's higher railroad rates are "appropriated" by Minnesota, in figuring the gross earnings tax on railroads doing business in that state when Minnesota makes a showing before her railroad commission or before the interstate commerce commission is the contention of G. M. Springer, newly appointed traffic manager of the North Dakota Farm Bureau federation.

"North Dakotans are big hearted," said Mr. Springer. "It might be that we would not object so strenuously to Minnesota's way of figuring, if it were not for the fact that by using high rates on shipments into North Dakota on interstate traffic, Minnesota makes a showing which enables that state to get further rate concessions, at the expense of North Dakota shippers."

Example Given

"Let's take an imaginary car of sugar from New Orleans to Moorhead, the most distant point in Minnesota, on a west bound movement, and see just what happens, when compared with North Dakota—and please bear in mind that these sugar rates, probably are the most equitably adjusted of any of the so-called jobbing rates," says Mr. Springer.

"The minimum carload weight is 60,000 pounds, while the difference in rate as compared with Minneapolis is 20 cents per 100, that is, from New Orleans to Minneapolis is 70 cents, and to Moorhead is 90 cents, and this 20 cents difference is presumably the earnings of the Northern Pacific railway from Minneapolis to Moorhead.

"The distance from Minneapolis to Moorhead is 240 miles and a minimum car of sugar weighs 60,000 pounds. At 20 cents a hundred pounds the shipper pays $120 to get the car from Minneapolis to Moorhead.

"Now let's take another car of sugar and ship it from New Orleans to Mandan via Minneapolis and Moorhead (and that is the way it would have to go) and the following facts are shown:

"The rate from New Orleans to Mandan, via Minneapolis and Moorhead is $125 a hundred pounds, as compared to the rate to Minneapolis of 70 cents and to Moorhead of 90 cents. In other words it costs the shipper 25 cents a hundred to get the car from Minneapolis to Mandan, and 35 cents a hundred to get the car from Moorhead to Mandan.

"The distance from Moorhead to Mandan is 201 miles. It therefore costs the Mandan shipper 25 cents to haul the car the 201 miles from Moorhead to Mandan as compared to the 20 cents that it costs the Moorhead shipper to haul the car 240 miles from Minneapolis to Moorhead.

Where the Joker Lies

"But the joker lies here, that the North Dakota shipper not only pays this much heavier proportionate rate, but Minnesota gets the benefit of that higher rate paid by the North Dakota shipper in figuring its gross earnings tax on the railroads, and in addition is able to use our high North Dakota rates to show, apparently, that the Minnesota rates are not excessively low as compared to the North Dakota rate.

"This surprising situation is brought about in this way. The Minnesota state law defines the terms gross earnings, in these words: 'Gross earnings, as hereby declared and shall be construed to mean all earnings on business beginning and ending within the state—and a proportion based upon the proportion of the mileage within the state for the entire mileage over which such business is done, and all interstate business passing through into or out of the state.'

"In other words, on shipments passing from one state to another the earnings credited to each state is based on a mileage prorate, using the distance traversed in each.

"See how this works out, using our car of sugar as a basis. It costs $120 to haul a 60,000 pound car of sugar from Minneapolis to Moorhead. The distance it was hauled in Minnesota is 240 miles or 54.42 per cent; the distance in North Dakota is 201 miles or 45.58 per cent.

"Therefore the railroad credits 54.42 per cent of this $330 or $179.59, as gross earnings to Minnesota, and 45.58 per cent or $150.41, as gross earnings to North Dakota.

"So in the case of North Dakota getting the mileage which is the actual amount due to the rate for our haul, we get only $150.41, or a loss to us of $69.59 on a single car. What does it mean? Let's see. If the car went to Moorhead, their earnings in Minnesota would have been only $120, but as here shown Minnesota gets $179.59 more than North Dakota car, or just $59.59 more than on the most distant haul in their own state.

"You might say, 'We don't care, let them have it,' but—the carriers pay taxes in Minnesota on the basis of their gross earnings, that is, they pay 5 per cent on such gross earnings, in rendering a tax report to the states, Minnesota—using just one car as an illustration—would get this $59.59 which we have contributed and on which they would get a tax of 5 per cent or $2.98. Now, who pays that $2.98 tax?

"You might think that there was some 'crook' about this Mandan deal. Let's take 25 cars of sugar from New Orleans and suppose that that number of cars were shipped to each of the interior North Dakota jobbing points, that is, to Valley City, Jamestown, Bismarck, Mandan, Dickinson, Devils Lake, Minot and Williston. This would make a total of 250 cars on which the total earnings to both Minnesota and North Dakota, arrived at in the same manner as the Mandan car, would be $81,500; of these total earnings to both states and prorating

The field and working before the end of the week. Money is expected to be available from the issues by the end of the present month and Manager DeNault expects to make farm loans in considerable amount by March 1.

While the work of appraising also is a difficult task in the winter, Manager DeNault hopes to have loaned out a substantial amount of money during this month, to loan $250,000 in March and by May to be putting out $500,000 a month.

Limit in Total Amount

The limit in the amount of farm loans which may be made under present law is $10,000,000. Since $2,771,699.91 has been loaned out by the former administration the amount which can be loaned by the department under the present administration is approximately $7,228,300.09. Applications are being received at a rate which indicates that they will total much more than $7,000,000 in the next few weeks.

One of the difficult problems the department must face is that applications now are being received for much greater loans than should or can be made. The great majority must be reduced in amount to comply with the regulations of the department and leave the required margin of safety. Applications in many cases cannot expect to pay all of their debts by a loan. It is emphasized by the department. While the department is anxious to aid farmers in every possible way in making the loans, and already is taking care of many emergency cases where the applicant faces loss of his property, it is emphasized that the interests of the taxpayers as a whole must be safeguarded in the making of loans; if the farm loan business is to be permanently and successfully conducted.

the earnings between the states on the basis of mileage hauled in each (using actual mileage to various points) would be $22,576.50, while if the same 250 cars had stopped at Moorhead, Minnesota would have earned only $24,000, or a gain to them by cars having come to North Dakota, of $8,576.50 and on which the carriers must pay tax of 5 per cent or $424.83, while the North Dakota shippers have contributed in taxes over in Minnesota.

Many Discriminations

"This sugar illustration is not an exaggerated case, in fact many more pronounced discriminations could be shown and the sugar represents more than the average situation. Let us take a car of chickens or turkeys or poultry in a poultry car from Valley City to Minneapolis.

"From Valley City to Minneapolis, over the Northern Pacific railroad via Moorhead is 299 miles. The rate on a minimum car of 20,000 pounds is 88 cents a hundred or $176. The haul in Minnesota is 240 miles, the haul in North Dakota 59 miles, therefore the gross earnings are divided 80.25 per cent to Minnesota and 19.75 per cent to North Dakota. Minnesota is credited

When you haven't met for a long time, both naturally wonder what changes Time has wrought. Keep that schoolgirl complexion and he will say the years have left you unchanged.

Still—That Schoolgirl Complexion

When must beauty cease? Never, if you know how to keep it. The charm of beautiful maturity may rival that of early youth if wholesome, ever alluring freshness is not allowed to fade.

A firm, fine skin, smooth and free from blemishes, makes every woman seem young. Every woman can have such a complexion—the secret is simple, the means within the reach of all.

Cleopatra kept her youth

She reached the height of her fame and beauty when some women imagine they must fade and grow old, keeping her youthful charms and freshness by the same simple means which we recommend today.

Cosmetic cleanliness was a daily rite, and the cleansers employed were palm and olive oils. This kept her complexion fresh and smooth, stimulated to healthful functioning.

Most facial disfigurements result from clogging accumulations which collect on the skin, fill up the pores and cause coarseness, blackheads and blotches.

Wash your face every day and these ills won't afflict you.

Use gentle means

The kind of washing we mean is gentle, soothing, cleansing with the modern blend of palm and olive oils.

Its action is mild and the profuse creamy lather seems lotion-like. It leaves the skin wonderfully smooth and fresh while removing every trace of soil.

Such cleansing is most beneficial and prepares the skin for cold cream if you need it and the touch of rouge and powder most women use.

Neck, arms and shoulders should receive the same beautifying treatment, for they are conspicuous as the face for complexion beauty or the lack of it. Use Palmolive for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face. The price allows it.

Yours for 10 cents

ed with gross earnings on the haul of $141.21 and North Dakota of $34.74.

"But if the car had been shipped locally in Minnesota from Moorhead to Minneapolis the rate would have been 46 cents a hundred pounds, or $92 on a 20,000 pound car. So that Minnesota gets $42.26 more on a North Dakota car from Valley City, than they get on the haul exclusively within their own state. They also get a 5 per cent tax on this or $2.46 more than on their own traffic.

"The greatest detriment to North Dakota from this system of railroad accounting comes when we seek rate adjustments. The railroads show their earnings, after they have taken out this contribution to Minnesota and of course it does not look as if we had paid such a large excess.

"But worse than that, Minnesota takes the carriers' statements figured on this basis and goes before the regulating bodies with the objection that on the showing on gross earnings, as made by the railroads, their rates are too high and the railroad commission says: 'Yes, you have been paying too much and we will have to cut down your rates some more.' We might not object to this, if it did not thereby increase our contribution to the State of Minnesota and still further cut down the amount of earnings they claim to pay, without reducing our freight cost one cent."

Musical Comedy Has Large Cast and Varied Scenes

The Oriental American Fantastique "Katcha-Koo," musical comedy coming to the City Auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, February 10 and 11, carries in the cast, choruses and dances, the greatest number of artists yet seen in one show on the Bismarck stage, numbering two hundred and twenty. These two hundred and twenty young people are costumed as only the orient can create. The American explorer, Dick Horton, and his friend Harry Bradshaw meet up with weird, grotesque and side splitting experiences in their encounters with the Maharaja of Humea and his four wives. The irresistible American widow, Mrs. Charlie Gaddis, and her two ultra-American daughters, Dolly and Prudence, thicken the plot most effectively.

We are transported from the workday hours of an average evening to realms of dance and song and unfamiliar sojourn. There are Oriental Indies, polo dancers, Chinese, Belgians, Jackies, Italians, French, Yankee Dixies, Dutch and Sammites, more than a score, Uncle Sam and lovely Miss America, all mazed about with beauties in the veil dance, until a tapestry of beauty and color unrolls to the strains of enchanting music and we are kings and queens for a night and dull care is driven away.

Here is the show for our money, given both evenings, Feb. 10 and 11, at very reasonable prices. Tickets are on sale by all the members of the Business Women's club and at Harris Book store.

JEWELS MUST HARMONIZE

BY MARIAN HALE

New York, Feb. 7.—Following the fashion set by the French, women of America are wearing a great many jewels. Even during the day one sees two and three necklaces worn at the same time.

But they must harmonize, contrast, or relate in some way.

The newest and quite the most correct way of wearing a collection of ornaments is this arrangement of Carver jewels—pearls and diamonds, all white with a single accent of color, the ruby.

A pearl sautier which comes quite to the waist line, sometimes slightly below, a necklace circling the throat and a strand of pearls just between the two in length and ornamented with a pendant might, several seasons ago, have been thought too many jewels to wear at once. But not now!

The frock, too, is coming into its own, but instead of being worn at the neck or at the point of a rather low neck, with an eye to bringing out the beauties of her figure, Milady fastens the gems low on her bodice, possibly at the waist line.

Casserole Dishes

(Sister Mary's Kitchen)

Casserole dishes have a distinct appeal in that they may be served in the same dish in which they were cooked, thereby saving dishwashing.

There is less waste to foods cooked in a casserole and if the entire meal is carefully planned the fuel used to heat the oven may also cook the dessert.

Any casserole dish may be cooked in a fireless cooker.

Hot Pot of Hodge Podge

One and one-half pounds neck or loin of mutton, 5 potatoes, 1 large onion, 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, salt and pepper.

Wash, peel and slice potatoes. Peel and slice onion. Melt fat in frying pan and fry the onion a pale straw color. Remove from fat and lightly brown the potatoes. Remove potatoes and put a layer in casserole.

Trim meat and cut in pieces convenient for serving. Fry a light brown on both sides in the bacon fat. Put a layer of meat on the potatoes, season with salt, pepper and parsley and sprinkle with onions. Add time layer for layer until all is used. Add 1 cup boiling water, cover closely and cook two hours in a moderate oven.

Casserole of Veal

One pound lean veal, 1-4 pound

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to often and when rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

smoked ham, 1 tablespoon bacon fat, 16 tiny onions, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 3 cups diced potatoes, 3 tablespoons flour.

Trim off any fat from the ham and try out in frying pan. Cut ham in match-like strips and brown in the fat. Mix salt and flour. Cut veal in dice and roll in flour. Brown quickly on all sides in the bacon fat. Brown the onions in the fat. Put meat, onions, potato cubes in casserole. Put tomatoes, water and celery salt and pepper in the frying pan and bring to the boiling point. Pour this over mixture in casserole.

Cover and cook an hour and one-half in a moderate oven.

Pork Chops and Apples

Sprinkle pork chops with salt and pepper. Pare and core apples and cut in rings. Put a layer of apples in a lightly buttered casserole, sprinkle very lightly with light brown sugar and a dash of powdered cloves. Add 1-2 teaspoon minced onion and a layer of pork chops.

Continue layer for layer until the sufficient number of chops are used. The last layer should be of apples. Add just enough water to prevent burning before the juice is drawn out of the apples. Cover tightly and cook in a moderate oven for an hour and a half. Remove cover and lightly brown the top.

The Shin of Beef

One of the Best Cheap Cuts.

One of the best of the cheaper cuts of meat is the shin of beef. The meat is tender and much finer grained than some of the so-called cheap cuts. While there is quite a lot of bone the meat is really cheap enough to make up for the waste and the bone can be boiled for soup stock.

Have the bone removed from the shin, leaving a piece of solid meat. A two and a half pound middle cut of the shin will serve four persons.

Pot Roast of Beef.

Two and one-half pounds shin of beef, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 cup flour.

Have the butcher remove the bone and cut it in several pieces. Roll and the meat. Mix flour, salt and pepper and thoroughly dredge meat. Remove some of the marrow from the bone and try out in the kettle in which the meat is to be cooked. When very hot put in the meat and sear quickly on all sides. This keeps in the juice.

Let the meat brown well, dredging with more flour as fast as the meat absorbs it. When nicely browned add 11-2 cups boiling water. Cover closely and let simmer for two hours. There should be a rich brown gravy with a piece of beef cooked this way.

Shin of Beef a la Mode.

Three pounds meat, 1-4 pound salt pork, 1 pepper, 2 carrots, 1 small onion, parsley, bay leaf, 1-2 lemon, 1-3 cup vinegar, 4 cloves, salt and pepper.

Have the meat boned and rolled by the butcher. Put in a crock with the onion minced, cloves, bay leaf and minced parsley. Pour over the vinegar and lemon juice and let stand half a day, turning the meat often.

Cut half of the salt pork in narrow strips and use to lard the meat. Fry the rest of the pork out in the kettle in which the meat is to be cooked. Drain meat and brown quickly on all sides in the kettle. Remove meat from kettle and stir 2 tablespoons flour into fat. Add 2 cups water slowly, stirring constantly, and the vinegar and spices in which the meat was soaked.

Cook, stirring constantly until the mixture boils. Add 1 cup hot water and replace the meat. Season with salt and pepper and cook just below the boiling point for two hours. Add the carrots, scraped and thinly sliced and cook thirty to forty minutes longer.

Beef Stew.

Have meat boned but not rolled. Cut in pieces 11-2 inches thick. Dredge with flour and salt well mixed and brown quickly on all sides. Add boiling water to cover and simmer for an hour. Then add 3 cups diced po-

Scout Notes

SAKAKAWA GIRL SCOUTS

The Sakakawa Girl Scout Troop No. 2, will meet Tuesday evening at 7:15 in Room 6 of the High School. This is an important meeting and a full attendance is desired.

The Sakakawa Girl Scout Troop is composed of 24 Scouts and 3 officials. The captain is Miss Runey of the Bismarck High School, First Lieutenant, Dorothy Landres and Second Lieutenant, Bernice Nelson. Much interest is being shown in all Scout work. A number of the members are second class Scouts and are working on First Class Tests. Merit Badges have also been received.

The Girl Scout organization is non-sectarian, comprised of girls between the ages of ten and eighteen who pass certain "Tenderfoot Tests."

There are 110,000 Girl Scouts in the United States and the number is increasing rapidly. There are troops in every state in the Union and in the territory of Hawaii. The purpose of the organization is to make strong, healthy, practical, capable girls with ideals of service in home and community, and to do it by means of activities which girls enjoy.

The official Scout play, "The Golden Eagle," which is to be given at the Eltinge next Thursday afternoon is shown under the auspices of the Sakakawa Girl Scout Troop.

This play is of equal interest to young people and grown-ups. It is not only of educational and moral value in the ideals it presents for the modern girl but it is a real live "movie" with a dramatic story and a "thriller" in it.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

OLD-TIMER RETURNS

Sauerkraut, after long interment as an alien enemy, is coming back into popularity strongly. So strongly, in fact, that it is the sensation of the food trades.

Those who dislike German chop-suey will sniff and say, "Strongly is right."

Nevertheless, the return of the prodigal, no longer known as liberty cabbage, is refreshing news, in this madhouse age of conferences, blocs, agendas, reparations and parleys.

It's another indication of recovery from the war and return to normalcy.

For normalcy without sauerkraut is as unappetizing as sauerkraut without frankfurter, or spareribs.

International politics is important—at least, until viewed with the perspective of a long lapse of time.

In the long run, changes in a nation's diet get down deeper into the undercurrents of humanity.

If the Chinese were to stop eating rice, it would be infinitely more important than their diplomatic relations with Japan, for it would presage a lowering of the physique of the yellow race, now rising to rival the white man.

Many think for many thousands of years. America suddenly kicked John Barleycorn out. Students 1000 years from now will recognize that prohibition brought a far greater change to Americans and their civilization than even the World War.

The things we eat and drink are the engines, good or bad, that run us. From them come our bodies, much of our mental powers or handicaps, along with virtues and vices.

The Russian soldier on military duty has this for his week's food: Ten ounces of salt, 7 quarts of beer, 120 ounces of barley, 112 ounces each of meat and black bread and 122 ounces of sauerkraut.

Dieticians, talking in terms of calories, claim that kraut has a third more food value than chicken soup.

The real sauerkraut fans, however, are not much interested in calories. They ask few questions when they tackle kraut and its near relatives—pretzels, spareribs, cheese sandwiches and beer.

Possibly the real reason for sauerkraut's comeback is the rumor that its juice, at the proper age, has an alcoholic content that comes close to the Volstead deadline. Or is that just propaganda by cunning kraut manufacturers?

FALSE

If the proposed duty of two cents a pound is put on Cuban sugar, it will bar Cubans from American markets and they'll have to sell their sugar in other countries. This is the argument floating in Cuba.

It's wrong. Americans last year consumed 4,266,755 tons of sugar. Only 1,246,53 tons of this were grown in America. The balance had to be imported, and it will continue to be imported, regardless of tariffs or prices, for sugar is a necessity.

Consumers would pay the tariff, just as they paid the exorbitant prices when the sugar hoarders were running amuck.

SEALSKIN

The great herd of 2,500,000 seals in the northern Pacific was reduced to less than 125,000 by indiscriminate slaughter. Result: Women probably are paying as much for Hudson seal-dyed muskrat—as they would be paying for genuine sealskin if the seal herds had been protected.

Fortunately, government protection of seals now is rigid, and the herd has increased to 600,000.

Man is reckless of anything he finds in great quantities. Few of us look into the future, guarding against shortage.

ELUSIVE

Letters, reaching our country from Russia, have 500 stamps on each envelope. The stamps are worth 2000 rubles—more than $1000 when the ruble was at par.

The buying power of our dollar fluctuates similarly, though on much smaller scale.

We need many things financially. Most of all, we need some way of keeping the value of buying power of the dollar from changing. It can be done. Someone will discover it. Not yet.

GHOSTS OF 1315

The year 1923 may be "destined to repeat something like the experiences of 1315, the year of the worst and most general harvest failure known in European history."

England gets this prophetic warning in the magazine published by the Royal Economic Society of London.

The prophet is Sir William Henry Beveridge, famous economist.

As far back as two years ago, he began predicting the possibility of "lean years" in 1924, 1925 or 1926.

Now he moves the date back a year and points to "1923 as likely to be distinguished by excessive rain, cold and bad harvests in western Europe and to bring high prices and scarcity in 1924."

Beveridge hasn't been consulting a ouija board or clairvoyant.

For years he analyzed wheat prices from the year 1500 onward. He found that wheat prices run in cycles, the peaks recurring at intervals of 15 1/3 years.

Barring the big war that comes about every 50 years, when the people have saved up enough to finance it, wheat-price peaks are the result of crop shortage, generally due to bad weather.

Bad weather, unfavorable to crops, seems to repeat every 15 1/3 years, almost as accurately and unfailingly as the striking of a good clock.

The year 1800 had one of these bad-weather cycles, accompanied by a severe crop failure and famine. Next in line for large-scale disaster is the year 1923, according to Economist Beveridge. He doesn't guarantee his prophecy. What he wants is that farmers and students of economics put their thinking-caps on.

Pharaoh had a dream. Joseph interpreted it correctly. Seven years of plenty were followed by seven lean years.

That gave a period of 14 years, remarkably close to the 15 1/3 years cycle discovered by Beveridge.

During the fat years, Joseph and Pharaoh stored up surplus grain and sold it during the seven years of famine.

Farmers might ponder this: Maybe a benevolent providence has been swamping us with bumper crops, to enable us to store the surplus for lean years in Europe or even in our own country.

"And the famine was over all the face of the earth; and Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold unto the Egyptians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt. And all the countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy corn; because that the famine was so sore in all lands."

JURIES

A jury, hearing a prohibition case in Brooklyn, N. Y., was permitted by the judge to sample the evidence. This precedent is said to have cut in half the number of men asking to be excused from jury duty.

The procedure is not without benefit to a bootlegger. One of them had his case nulled recently in a western town because the police had drunk up the evidence.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

"THEM STEERS" ARE FAMOUS —

It happened that the Otter Tail County Fair association of Minnesota, in order to celebrate with a realistic pageant the semi-centennial of the city of Fergus Falls, recently required something that could have been found, fifty years ago, on any regular farm, but which today they had to pursue the country over. And when at last this relic was discovered, the Minnesota farmers gazed upon it gleefully—a quaint curiosity! The country folk regarded it with that dutiful indifference with which people view museum exhibits. What was this rarity? A team of oxen.

We shall probably never have anything like oxen in the United States again. They are gone, and our landscape is the loser. Oxen were a triumph of leisurely submissiveness. Not only did they serve from sunrise to sunset and take their beatings gratefully, but they were calm, pleasant creatures, whose urges came from the outside only. They went with meadow scenes. Perhaps no one who has not watched a motor-driven plough proceeding with uproar and agitation across the April fields can understand how sad a thing is the disappearance of oxen. Ox carts were romantic. They looked like pictures on calendars. Oxen were necessary. It was strengthening to touch them. Nobody feels warmed and strengthened from touching a Ford tractor.

They are gone, and so are lanterns. Lanterns were cheerful and golden-flamed companions. Where they flickered, the electric light glared with imbecile steadiness, or goes suddenly and treacherously out. They were calm. Electric flash-lights are nervous.

No lanterns any more. And no pung sleighs! Nothing can cut the drifts like the old pung, and nothing was cosier to sit in, under piled buffalo robes, especially with a soapstone. Now, with a blackening of silver ruts, and sputtering and haste, we see a motor-propelled straw ride coming anxiously down the road. Oh, burlesque of Winter's Tale—New York Evening Post.

Passion Players Turn Down $500,000 U. S. Movie Offer

Principals in Oberammergau Passion Play

BY MILTON BRONNER

London, Feb. 7.—Five hundred thousand dollars runs into many millions of marks at present rates of exchange.

But an offer of that amount by American movie producers has been spurned by the God-fearing villagers of Oberammergau, Bavaria, though they are all but ruined by the war, the revolution and post-war economic troubles.

The American movie producers wanted exclusive rights to film the famous Oberammergau Passion Play. The villagers thought acceptance of the offer would be commercializing their holy drama.

The Passion Play will be enacted on the huge stage at Oberammergau next May, just as it has been performed every 10 years since 1863.

This information comes to me direct from Oberammergau and should set at rest the wild rumors that have been current to the effect that no Passion Play would be given.

These rumors were based on the supposition that the villagers feared a boycott of the play by nationals of the countries formerly at war with Germany and that the old players could not perform.

It is true that if spectators remained away from the Passion Play, it would spell ruin for almost every family in Oberammergau. For the savings of the whole village are thrown into the production.

But there's no danger of such misfortune this year. Already more than 60,000 applications for seats have been received from Americans and Englishmen.

Le Cri de Paris, a flippant French anti-German weekly, recently said: "The 'Holy Virgin' has married; the 'Christ' married far from Oberammergau; 'Judas' a private soldier, fell before Verdun, and 'Joseph' a fervent communist, was killed at Rosenheim by the white guards."

There's only one element of truth in all that.

Ottile Zwink, who played Mary in 1910, was married the following year. Hence she's ineligible for that part this year.

But "Judas"—Johann Zwink—was not killed in the war. And Anton Lang, Christ of 1910 and 1900, will play in the same role again this year.

Here is the cast, as it is officially announced:

|----------------|----------------------|
| Christ | Anton Lang |
| Peter | Andreas Lang |
| Judas | Guido Mayr |
| Anna | Sebastian Lang |
| Herod | George Breitsamter |
| John | Melchior Breitsamter |
| Calphas | Hugo Ruiz |
| Pilate | Hans Mayr |
| Mary | Martina Veit |
| Mary Magdalene | Paula Rendl |

George Lang, a sculptor, will act as director. Nearly 700 will take part. One hundred and twenty-two will have speaking parts. There will be 55 musicians, 41 singers, 25 scene shifters, 60 ushers and 50 carpenters. Most of the players in everyday life are farmers or wood carvers. Anton Lang, impersonator of Christ, is a potter.

About Unusual People

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 7.—If there are people on Mars, we'll be talking with them soon via wireless.

But the only language we can make them understand will be the universal language of music, says Ferenc Vecsey, Hungarian violinist.

And Vecsey wants to be the interpreter. "Rhythm abounds throughout creation," Vecsey says. "It can be made to express all human emotions. If music could be flung to Mars on wireless waves, we could converse with that planet."

THE PHILOSOPHER

(Florence Bonner.)

When skies are gray, and rain falls down,
And all the world seems dreary,
I do not moan or sigh and frown,
And let my heart grow weary;
Because the weather's made, you see
For other folks, along with me.

So when there comes a drizzling rain,
While other folks are pining,
I see the fields of golden grain,
And farmers' faces shining;
Because without the rain, you see
There'd be no bread for you and me.

And thus it is throughout this life,
The things which so displease us,
And cause us worry, care and strife,
And in all manners tease us,
Perhaps, like moisture from the skies
Are blessings sent us in disguise.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The party man had a lovely party and the queer little candy and cake and fruit tarts were ever so kind to Nancy and Nick. After awhile there was speaking and they all sat down in rows to hear.

The first one to make a speech was the peanut, which said this: "Oh, hi diddle diddle!"

"I'll ask you a riddle. Can anyone tell where I grow? Do I grow on a tree or an island at sea, Or up with the clouds and the snow?"

Do I grow like potatoes way under ground, Or like strawberries red on a vine, Or on plants like tomatoes so smooth and so round,

Or like cones on an evergreen pine? Oh, hi diddle diddle! Please answer my riddle I really have done my best.

And I hope you will look in your peanut book.

It the answer you haven't guessed, The peanut made a stiff bow and saw down. No one applauded or clapped his hands because they were all busy trying to think of the answer.

The little chocolate drop fairies came out next in white frilly petticoats of platted paper and sang a song with a chorus which went like this:

"We're plain as to feature. We're dark as to skin. We're fat and we're lumpy. We long to be thin."

But right down inside us, Our hearts are all right. They're soft and they're spotless. They're sweet and they're white.

Our friends count in millions From north to the south. And we fit in quite nicely. To anyone's mouth."

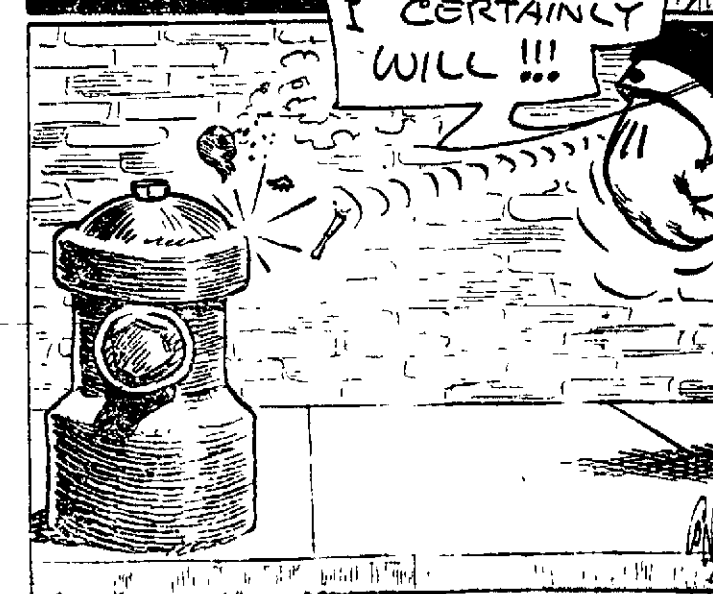

Nancy said it made her hungry and Nick said please not to mention it. But there were more speeches to be said and Buskins said it was bad manners to talk even if it were compliments they were making.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I knew what it had done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine for the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject. Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many other women.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY'S NEW COACH

Wm. H. Spaulding Displays Unmistakable Signs of Possessing Lots of "Punch"

HE IS KNOWN AS "BIG BILL"

So Far He Has Not Outlined His System For Next Fall's Work

Chicago, Feb. 7.—A man with a "punch" is the way admirers characterize William H. Spaulding, chosen to succeed Harry L. Williams as football coach at the University of Minnesota.

All through his career as a player and coach, Spaulding has displayed unmistakable signs of possessing that spirit called "punch." When a star in college, he was twice chosen captain of the football team and during his career as a coach, twice developed teams that went through the season without a defeat.

The entrance of Coach Spaulding into the western conference told probably will mean the passing of the famous Minnesota shift. Teams developed by him, admirers said today, probably will be of the shock order, hard hitters, tacklers and fighters, knowing enough, too, of the modern forward pass game to travel that spectacular and easy scoring route when the occasion offers.

"Big Bill" Spaulding, as he is known, first demonstrated his punch when he was a student at Wabash college in 1907-08 and played half-back on the famous aggregations of that Hoover institution which won the title of "Little Giants." At that time Spaulding weighed close to 150 pounds and could travel a hundred yards in ten seconds. In 1904 and 1905, there was a lot of time in Indiana or Illinois that could stop him, and, although playing on a small college he was made an All-Western selection in both years. Twice he was chosen captain to lead the "Little Giants," an honor that has not since fallen to any Wabash man.

In 1904, Western State Normal college was established in Kalama, and two years later its president, Dr. D. B. Waldo, selected the aggressive captain of the "Little Giants" to develop the athletic department at the institution. Spaulding started in with virtually nothing in the way of material equipment or prestige, and built up major sport teams, which in the last few seasons have come to a rating exceptional in their class and have competed with university teams on an equal basis.

Won Every Game in 1912. The big leap ahead began in 1912 when the football team went through the season without a defeat, winning from the colleges of Michigan outside of the University and M. A. C. In 1914, Spaulding again sent his team through the fall campaign without a defeat and in 1915, developed an aggregation that fairly slaughtered the M. I. A. colleges. In 1917, the Ann Arbor athletic authorities gave Western State Normal a place on the University of Michigan schedule and had a "rough" year. Spaulding's eleven outplayed Michigan all through the game and only a bit of luck in a mis-handled punt enabled the Wolverine warriors to win 17-13. Which shows conference football will have no terror for the new Minnesota mentor.

Ability to battle on a foreign field and to come back against odds has been a characteristic of the Spaulding teams. In the fall of 1919, Western Normal was playing the Michigan Aggies at Lansing. Favored by some breaks, the Aggies scored two touchdowns in the first half, which made the score at intermission 12-0, against the Kalamazoo team. Spaulding's athletic troupe came back in the second half and scored three touchdowns, mainly with some brilliant aerial play. In 1919, Wabash was also defeated 27-14.

Western Normal had a fine record last year, despite a slight mid-season slump. The team scored 269 points against 40 for its opponents.

Also Good At Baseball. While baseball will be no part of the new coach's work at Minnesota he has had splendid success along that line. His greatest series has been that with the University of Michigan wherein he has won an even break, all the games being played on the Wolverine diamond, another evidence of staunch hearty quality of the Spaulding coached athletes.

The new Gopher leader has not outlined his system for next fall's work so far, but it is safe to assume fundamentals and light will be soundly stressed. There will be a lot of hard blocking and tackling practice, with less attention to the heavy shifting that was once such a feature of Minnesota play. It is known, however, Spaulding is partial to fast backfield maneuvering. Last but not least, the forward pass will be much in evidence. For Western State Normal teams have won many a victory via that route.

MINOT'S TEAM IS DEFEATED

Berthold N. D. Feb. 7.—Defeat of Minot one week-end by a 19 to 16 score, and of Stanley last week by a score of 50 to 4, has brought the basketball team of this town into the limelight of Northwest North Dakota time.

"BIG NINE" ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

Its Organization Is Expected To Be Perfected at St. Paul Meeting

Organization of the proposed new "Big Nine" intercollegiate athletic conference is expected to be completed at a meeting called for February 20, at St. Paul, Minn., according to an announcement made today by Coach C. A. West, director of athletics at the State College of Brookings, S. D., who is sponsoring the new organization.

The "Big Nine" will include, according to present plans, Morhouside College, of Sioux City; South Dakota University; Vermillion; South Dakota State College, of Brookings; North Dakota State College, of Fargo; North Dakota University, of Grand Forks; Creighton University, of Omaha; St. Thomas College, of St. Paul; Marquette University, of Milwaukee; and Michigan Agricultural College, of East Lansing.

One representative from the department of physical education and athletics and one from the faculty of each of these institutions, is expected to be present at the St. Paul meeting. Questions pertaining to the freshmen rule, number of games to be scheduled with conference opponents, means of deciding championships in the various sports, number of hours of studies that athletes must carry and maintain at passing grades and questions of migration will be discussed and legislated upon this first meeting.

"Such a conference will do for the member institutions what the 'Big Ten' has done for its members and what the baseball leagues have done for organized baseball," Coach West declared in making the announcement. "It will give us a means for discussing and protecting the welfare of athletics in the various institutions and it will put the members on an equal basis as regards rules for competition."

"Many of the proposed members in the new conference have games scheduled with each other for next year and have had many contests with sports number of years. However, to be united together under a common agreement will greatly facilitate the making of future schedules and will tend to increase interest in athletics both among students and alumni."

"Such an organization will provide the institutions of this section of the middle west with a means of getting together at frequent intervals to discuss troublesome problems of administration, finances and so forth. It will also be a means of promoting the welfare of athletics and of broadening their scope. Many things may be said in favor of this plan and I can see nothing that any institution has to lose by being in it."

COUNTRY STORE NIGHT AT THE RIALTO THEATER

A new and novel method of advertising is being shown tonight. Popularity depends a lot on the manner in which different merchandise is put before the public.

The Frivoly Girl Company will cooperate with a large number of the leading merchants of Bismarck, tonight at the Rialto Theater, and it will be shown just what a little of the right kind of advertising will do.

In addition to a big feature film "The Little Minister," which is worth the price of admission, the patrons will see a solid hour of the better class vaudeville and the big surprise of the evening will be the giving away, absolutely free, of the many costly and valuable articles which will range in value from one dollar to six or seven dollars.

There is a double object in this big expenditure and the result will be that everybody will benefit in more ways than one, the patrons will, of course, be the ones who will reap the most material benefit and the forty or fifty people who receive prizes will not regret their evening spent at the Rialto.

The Business Men of Bismarck who are backing the adventure will profit inasmuch as they will have their places of business and their names put up before hundreds of people.

The Rialto managers, Messrs. Wingren and Withnell, will have the opportunity to show the people the size and quality of entertainment that they were fortunate enough to secure direct from Minneapolis.

The Frivoly Girl will be the official fun makers and the characterizations of Souza and his famous band will be sure to make this people stout and stout people fat. Miss Juliet Heath has a gown that if duplicated will break many a man's pocket book. Most shows try to depict people trying to get money but this on the contrary shows how hard it is for Barnett and Coast to become paupers.

The specialties are very pleasing and there is giving us a means for discussing and protecting the welfare of athletics in the various institutions and it will put the members on an equal basis as regards rules for competition.

"Many of the proposed members in the new conference have games scheduled with each other for next year and have had many contests with sports number of years. However, to be united together under a common agreement will greatly facilitate the making of future schedules and will tend to increase interest in athletics both among students and alumni."

"Such an organization will provide the institutions of this section of the middle west with a means of getting together at frequent intervals to discuss troublesome problems of administration, finances and so forth. It will also be a means of promoting the welfare of athletics and of broadening their scope. Many things may be said in favor of this plan and I can see nothing that any institution has to lose by being in it."

Organization of the proposed new "Big Nine" intercollegiate athletic conference is expected to be completed at a meeting called for February 20, at St. Paul, Minn., according to an announcement made today by Coach C. A. West, director of athletics at the State College of Brookings, S. D., who is sponsoring the new organization.

The "Big Nine" will include, according to present plans, Morhouside College, of Sioux City; South Dakota University; Vermillion; South Dakota State College, of Brookings; North Dakota State College, of Fargo; North Dakota University, of Grand Forks; Creighton University, of Omaha; St. Thomas College, of St. Paul; Marquette University, of Milwaukee; and Michigan Agricultural College, of East Lansing.

One representative from the department of physical education and athletics and one from the faculty of each of these institutions, is expected to be present at the St. Paul meeting. Questions pertaining to the freshmen rule, number of games to be scheduled with conference opponents, means of deciding championships in the various sports, number of hours of studies that athletes must carry and maintain at passing grades and questions of migration will be discussed and legislated upon this first meeting.

"Such a conference will do for the member institutions what the 'Big Ten' has done for its members and what the baseball leagues have done for organized baseball," Coach West declared in making the announcement. "It will give us a means for discussing and protecting the welfare of athletics in the various institutions and it will put the members on an equal basis as regards rules for competition."

"Many of the proposed members in the new conference have games scheduled with each other for next year and have had many contests with sports number of years. However, to be united together under a common agreement will greatly facilitate the making of future schedules and will tend to increase interest in athletics both among students and alumni."

TOOK REINDEER TO ENGLAND

Attempt to Celebrate the Animal Was Not a Success—Marked Intelligence Shown by Them.

A hundred years ago it was thought that the mountain forests of Great Britain might be colonized by reindeer from Lapland, and an account was given in 1821 in an issue of the Observer, London, of the extraordinary sagacity displayed by them when a number were brought to England at the instigation of an eminent naturalist, Mr. Bullock. The herd was accompanied by a Laplander, to whom the animals were attached and to whose wishes they were usually obedient. All went well till they arrived at the place of embarkation, when the herdsmen invited the deer to follow him to the boat. When the leader of the herd put his foot upon the boat leading to the vessel he started back in alarm. It was the first unsteady ground he had ever trod. Fresh invitations to follow the herdsmen and fresh investigations followed, the whole herd looking on and watching the proceedings, placing entire confidence in the captain, not attempting to move till he gave them a signal that all was well. After a time he seemed to be reassured and in a majestic manner entered the vessel, where he trod upon every plank and carefully examined everything. When he had satisfied himself that it was perfectly safe, he uttered a kind of shout, when the hitherto passive herd bounded into the boat and in three minutes all had embarked. The account continues that the vessel was overloaded and the intelligent beast indicated this to his followers. "Were we not assured of the fact, we could hardly credit it," the reporter continues. "As he had intimated other things, he also intimated this to his followers. No sooner was this done than the individual deer he appealed to leaped into another boat."

The experiment did not prove a success, but the marked intelligence of the reindeer made a deep impression upon the public.

HOW THE MOLLUSKS TRAVEL

Attach Themselves to Water Fowl and Are Thus Transported For Considerable Distances.

One of the problems that continually confronts the naturalist is to account for the distribution of identical forms of life among widely separated localities. Investigation frequently shows that this has been accomplished in many ways that appear quite simple when once discovered, although one would hardly have thought of them in advance of their actual detection.

Some interesting facts have been brought out concerning the dispersion of fresh-water mollusks, accounting for their appearance in remote and isolated ponds. It appears that water fowl play an important part in this work.

Ducks have been known to carry mussels attached to their feet a hundred miles or more. Bivalve mollusks not infrequently cling to the toes of wading birds, and are thus transported for considerable distances. Even aquatic insects have been known to carry small fresh-water mollusks attached to their legs.

In such manner does Nature compel the various inhabitants of the earth to assist one another whether they will or not.

The American Legion

LEGION MAN IS LIFE SAVER. John L. Piazza, Officer 4944, New York Police Force, Well Deserves His Medal.

Saving lives is almost a specialty with officer 4944 of the New York police force, former private and top sergeant of the Three Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, A. E. F., now a member of the General Lafayette Police post, American Legion, in New York City. Patrolman Piazza, John L., wears the Distinguished Service Cross.

It was in the Argentine in October, 1918, near Grand Pre, Piazza, advancing with his platoon, saw a badly wounded officer lying alone in No Man's Land, abandoned when his life felt back to reform. On his stomach, Piazza crawled out to the spot, along the wounded man over his shoulder and standing erect, carried him to safety with the shells whistling and exploding.

Discharged from the army, Patrolman Piazza resumed his beat in the far reaches of the borough of the Bronx. It wasn't long after that when he dashed up into a burning building, rescued an infirm woman and carried her to the street. Shortly after that he dropped a runaway horse and saved a group of women and children from injury. Officer 4944 is twenty-nine years old, married and the father of a son.

WAS 62 WHEN HE ENLISTED

Former Train Dispatcher Did Good Service for Uncle Sam—An Enthusiastic Legion Man.

Sixty-two years young he was, H. E. Lamb, Worthington, Minn., told the recruiting officers during the war. So they enlisted him and sent him to a chilly berth in faraway Siberia. He weathered nine months of it to make it a good bargain.

Mr. Lamb was living a life of retirement on a farm near Worthington when America entered the war. He had been a train dispatcher and he thought his services would be valuable. The army thought so, too, and enlisted him. It was in the nature of a celebration of his sixty-second birthday.

Returning from service, Mr. Lamb interested himself in the activities of his younger comrades. He has never missed a state or national convention of the American Legion, and with his wife, who is a member of the Women's Auxiliary, he drove 200 miles to attend the last one at Winona, Minn. There the Legion gathering made him a vice commander of the state department. Now he is planning to drive all the way to the national convention at Kansas City this fall.

WOULD GET JOBS FOR MEN

State President of Oregon Women's Auxiliary Plans to Out Women Who Do Not Need Work.

A movement to oust from employment all married women who are not forced by necessity to work has been started by Mrs. W. A. Elvers, Portland, Ore., recently re-elected state president of the Oregon department of the Women's Auxiliary, the American Legion.

Mrs. Elvers speaks from firsthand information. As trained nurse and more recently as superintendent of the Emergency hospital in Portland, she has been doing a big man's work for years—but her husband has been an invalid for years.

"Women got started in men's work during the war, when it was necessary and laudable," Mrs. Elvers declared. "They are keeping it up now. Those who have husbands supporting them have no right to keep needy men out of employment. They are willing to work for less, too. They are bringing up our homes, all because they want extra pin-money. It must stop, and it's going to in Oregon, at least."

This Wife Makes Success of Home Work and a Job

BY WINONA WILCOX

We need not rob a single veteran of an atom of appreciation, if once in a while we give a little thought to what some of the wives of ex-soldiers are accomplishing.

Thousands of these brides are playing a brave part in a troublesome time. The wife of one ex-soldier sends the following charming story of her practical experiment in carrying on two jobs, housekeeping and a paid employment, in order that her husband may follow out his big ambition.

"My husband was a student when he enlisted. Between the date of his return from France and our marriage, he underwent three operations. I did all in my power to help him endure his suffering in hospitals and his tedious delays and disappointments in the business world.

"In consequence of his sickness, when we married he had but $150 and I had $50. Certainly he was in no way to blame for his financial condition but he felt he had not been fair to me when he asked me to marry, as we did, on almost nothing.

"It was a risk but I kept on with my office work and added to it the care of our cozy home.

"After a hard day at the office, I cook and wash and iron and clean but as it is for his home, it is not drudgery as some of my girl friends consider all housework to be.

"My husband leaves the house an hour before I do, but I never let him get his breakfasts, although he could, he insists. Why, our day wouldn't start right unless we shared our jolly breakfasts and told each other our plans for the time we are apart!

"My soldier-boy, with a war record I am proud of, helps me wash the dishes before he goes to work. I put the apartment in order before I lock the door behind me.

"And we rush home at night and cook the supper together. And afterward, four nights a week, my husband goes off to law school.

"But my evenings never are lonesome, for then I do my general housework, wash, iron, mend or make myself a new hat.

"We've been married a year but we've managed to buy the small car my husband needs in his business.

"I do not say we are having an easy time, either of us.

"I am as happy as any bride of a millionaire. I would have, been ashamed of myself if I had refused his proposal because I would have to work in an office for a few years after my marriage. I do not pity myself because I have to work.

"My greatest joy in life so far, has been this chance to help my husband gain what he most wants—a degree in law."

Often I have said a good deal to the effect that a wife has enough to do in her home and ought rarely to undertake work outside of it, therefore it is only fair to print some of the exceptions.
